POLICE PROBE BUNGALOW BLAZE

DESTROYED: Above, the fire-damaged remains of the buglow after the blaze, right

POLICE are investigating the circumstances surrounding a house fire that has left a mother and her daughter homeless.

The blaze ripped through a bungalow on the Berecroft estate on Friday afternoon, completely gutting the property and destroying most of the family's possessions.

Firefighters arrived on the scene shortly before 2pm to find flames engulfing the detached building.

They spent over one-and-a-half hours battling the inferno, first working to ensure the fire did not spread to neighbouring properties before finally extinguishing the flames by 3.30pm.

Although a subsequent investigation failed to determine the cause of the blaze, police arrested a 26-year-old man at the scene on suspicion of arson at the scene.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

He has since been released on police bail until November 5 pending further enquiries.

The fire is the third to rock the troubled neighbourhood since July 2009, when an arson attack destroyed two properties and caused thousands of pounds' worth of damage to 10 others.

In May 2010 a second deliberate blaze forced the evacuation of an entire street and damaged seven homes.

Concerns over the apparent ease with which the flames spread through the shared roof spaces of terraced homes on the estate during both incidents led housing association Circle Anglia to replace the roofs of most properties last year, but the bungalows were not included in the project.

A Circle Anglia spokesman said the work was unnecessary because the properties were detached.

But former councillor Lee Dangerfield, who played a key role in getting the safety work carried out, said: "I have always maintained that the roofs of the bungalows should have been replaced as well as those on the terraced homes."

"The fact is that Circle Anglia originally pledged to do this but then backtracked. If this work had been carried out as it should have been then I believe this latest fire would not have been as serious as it was."

Circle Anglia managing director Tracy White dismissed Mr Dangerfield's claims and moved to reassure Berecroft residents their homes were safe.

"We would like to reassure people that we take the health and safety of our residents very seriously and follow all guidelines to ensure that our residents have a safe place to live," she said.

"Our thoughts and support are with our residents who lost their home and belongings in this fire."

"We are supporting the residents throughout this difficult time and will help them find a new home."

"We are also working closely with the relevant authorities to assist in the investigation as a matter of urgent priority."

The Star understands the occupants of the bungalow are currently staying with family as they search for a new tenancy with help from the housing association.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon and local faith group Heart4Harlow are also co-ordinating efforts to replace some of the women's possessions lost in the fire.

AN unusual visitor to the River Stort caused quite a flap over the weekend.

Walkers, boaters and cyclists enjoying the sunshine along the Sawbridgeworth stretch of the river on Sunday were amazed to be greeted with the sight of a pelican cruising along the water.

It transpired the bird – a European white pelican normally native to countries further south in the continent – was on the run from the Blackbrook Zoological Park, based 180 miles away near Leek in Staffordshire.

Breaking out with an accomplice almost three weeks ago, its feathered partner in crime had been recaptured in Fairlands Valley Park, Stevenage on August 31. But the second pelican continued to evade its pursuers – until it came up against local resident Andy Briscoe.

"It was my son, Sam, who first alerted us to the pelican," said Andy, who lives adjacent to the river in Sheering Mill Lane. "Quite a crowd had gathered outside our house so we piled out to see what the commotion was about and, sure enough, there was the pelican swimming happily about."

Aware the bird was not in its natural habitat, Andy decided to find out where it had come from using a code printed on a ring around one of its legs.

"All it took was a quick Google search to link it to Blackbrook Zoo, but the zookeeper couldn't get down until the following afternoon," said Andy. "I knew it would be gone by then so I decided to catch the bird with help from my daughter, Molly, and put it up for the night."

After building a makeshift enclosure in the family's dining room, Andy said the next problem was finding the bird something to eat. "The keeper said the pelican would be very malnourished and should be fed mackerel if possible," he said. "Apparently it had been seen devouring two baby moorhens and two young mallards on its travels it was so hungry!"

"The problem was it was Sunday night so all the shops were closed. But after I put out an appeal on a Harlow Facebook group for donations of fish we received hundreds of responses and the pelican – nicknamed Nigel by my kids – enjoyed a good feed."

Andy, who owns a print and mail company in Dagenham, arranged for the bird to be returned to the zoo with one of his couriers the following day. It has been kept in quarantine to check for any infections.

"I have spoken to the keeper since and he said Nigel – who is actually female – is doing well, although she has now had her wings clipped to prevent another escape," added Andy.

"I'm glad it was a happy ending and it certainly made for a different Sunday afternoon!"

MP on the warpath over UK's 'rip-off' petrol prices

OIL companies have been conspiring to "rip off" motorists by keeping fuel prices artificially high, Harlow MP Robert Halfon will claim in a Parliamentary debate today (Thursday).

Mr Halfon's six-month campaign to drive down the cost of fuel on UK forecourts has persuaded the Office of Fair Trading to call for evidence of price-fixing and market manipulation.

But Mr Halfon will argue the OFT needs to go one step further and launch a full investigation into why pump prices continue to rise and vary by as much as 5p per litre between towns.

He will present a dossier of evidence claiming to show how motorists are suffering due to a lack of competitiveness in the oil market, including statements from an industry whistleblower describing how oil prices are being "rigged" on a daily basis.

"Petrol prices in Harlow are always 5p more expensive than in other nearby towns such as Stevenage, Chelmsford, and elsewhere," Mr Halfon told the Star. "Rip-off petrol prices are now so high they are a poverty trap, keeping people on benefits because they can't afford to travel.

"Fuel prices are literally driving people out of work. The question is not can you afford to have a car but can you afford not to. That's why we need a tough investigation into the oil market and allegations of price-fixing."

According to the latest statistics from the Department of Energy and Climate Change, UK fuel prices are currently among the highest in Europe, although the figures also show the bulk of this cost is due to the level of tax and fuel duty levied by the Government.

But Mr Halfon argued that high taxation was only part of the reason motorists were being hit in the pocket.

"The Government has frozen fuel duty for two years and I want them to cut tax even further," he said. "But we have to look at the oil market as well. Pump prices keep going up and up, even though there is no oil shortage."

"There have been serious accusations of fraud and market manipulation. We need a proper investigation, just as Germany and America are doing. Britain is being taken for a very expensive ride."

LOSING five toenails and spending a day suffering from a bout of severe sickness has not deterred a Harlow man from planning his next extreme endurance event after he successfully completed a charity run from Cardiff to London.

Daniel Jones (23), of Whieldon Grange, and university friends Ed Brewster (23) and Stuart Carter (23) set themselves the challenge of completing the 150-mile trek in five days to raise money for various charitable causes, including the Ramsay Jacob Centre at Rivers Hospital in Sawbridgeworth.

Daniel, who recently moved to Oxford to do a Masters degree in biotechnology, said they all had highs and lows along the way. "To complete it we had to run 30 miles a day, so more than a marathon," he said.

"Despite months of training, Ed's ankle started to swell right at the beginning of the first day. Though he pushed on to complete it, it meant he found the following day's running really tough and had to sit out for the third.

"Then Stuart also got injured on the second day so I ended up having to do the third day alone!

"On the fourth day I woke up and couldn't stop being sick which, looking back, I think was because I just wasn't taking on enough food and drink. So it was my turn to sit out while Ed and Stuart completed that day's run without me.

Uni pals on the run for charity

"I was back up for the final day which took me and Ed almost nine hours to complete. A big group of friends and family all came down to cheer us across the finish line which was by the Churchill statue opposite Big Ben. It was such a good feeling to finally finish!

They raised more than £4,000 between them. As well as the Ramsay Jacob Centre, the money will be split between Brain Tumour UK and the Children's Trust charity.

Daniel said every ache and pain had been worth it. "Initially when we finished we all vowed 'never again' but within a few days we were all already getting an itch to look towards the next big challenge.

"We are now considering signing up for a 24-hour race which will be the equivalent of four or five marathons back to back. I shall let you know what happens next!"

Hotel staff set for charity car wash

BUCKETS of hot soapy water will be in abundance at a Harlow hotel this Saturday when staff spend the day washing cars for charity.

As part of the Park Inn Harlow's commitment to Responsible Business Action Month, employees will be rolling up their sleeves for the day to help raise money for the World Childhood Foundation.

Car owners can take their vehicles to be washed at the hotel in Southern Way, Harlow, between 10am and 4pm and enjoy a tea or coffee while they wait. The cost is £5 per car.

"More than 15 staff from different departments have signed up for car washing duty so we should be able to get through a good amount of vehicles," said revenue manager George Hobin.

"It should be a really fun event where people can have their car cleaned for a cheap price whilst helping to raise money for a really good cause."

Old clothes can help change lives

UNWANTED clothes stored in drawers and wardrobes can be put to good use to support local cancer sufferers.

The Harlow branch for Macmillan Cancer Support is asking people to dig out and donate their unwanted garments as part of their new Bags of Support recycling scheme.

Working in conjunction with partner Clothes Aid for the home collection service, the charity is currently posting official donation bags through letterboxes and will return to pick them up.

Local fundraising manager Laura Bazzoni said: "Our supporters often ask if they can donate clothes to us as we don't have a national chain of charity shops, so we're really pleased to be able to launch Bags of Support.

"By giving clothes, Harlow residents will be helping to change the lives of some of the two million people currently living with cancer in the UK."

Pets on parade at family fun day dog show

WINNERS: Lewis Ottosen-Gowlet and Jess

MORE than 250 proud owners impressed judges with their animals at a dog show organised by the Friends of Pets' Corner.

The event was part of a family fun day held to raise money for the Town Park children's zoo.

Owners had the choice of seven categories for their dogs, including cutest puppy, scruffiest mutt and the dog judges would most like to take home.

"The judges had an impossible task," said Della Johnson, chair of the Friends of Pets' Corner. "For example the scruffiest mutt class had 43 entrants, all of which were adorable in their own way!"

Best pooch went to Jess owned by seven-year-old Lewis Ottosen-Gowlet, who was awarded the Ron Wood Cup in memory of the first manager of Pets' Corner when it opened in 1992.

As well as the dog show there were a number of other attractions including donkey rides, zorbing, a bouncy castle, teddy tombola and a falconry display.

"The weather held off and everyone had an excellent time," said Della. "The day really went well and we raised £1,700 which is a massive amount."

She added: "We're trying to commit to raising a certain amount each year for Pets' Corner to keep it running in and for our community.

"From a standing start events like this are doing really well and it is fantastic to see."

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, September 7 is ticket holder 013053, who lives in Stansted.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 008936, who also lives in Epping.

Council starts court action to evict travellers

HARLOW Council has begun legal proceedings to evict a group of travellers who have set up camp in the town.

Around 15 caravans and several other vehicles, pictured, moved on to the Netteswell Plantation, off Second Avenue, on Friday afternoon. The site is next to the helipad used by Essex Air Ambulance.

As the area is used for emergency access, police were able to serve the group with a notice the same day requesting they vacate the land by noon on Saturday.

The group eventually moved to Latton Common on Sunday where they remained as the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

They have since been served with court papers by Harlow Council. Councillor Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth and citizenship, said: "The council has been working closely with the police and both have been in daily dialogue with the travellers.

"Residents expect us to protect the town's green spaces and uphold the law and that is what we will do.

"We asked the travellers to leave Latton Common on Monday and as they are still there we are now taking legal action. There is a legal process to follow but in the meantime we will continue to work with the police to monitor the situation."

A court hearing is due to take place on Friday afternoon in Chelmsford.

A council spokesman added that a team from Kier Harlow had been sent out to the Netteswell Plantation site on Sunday to clear up rubbish left behind by the travellers.

Bailey's dream role in global showcase

A FLEET-footed member of a Harlow dance school enjoyed his moment in the spotlight after taking centre stage in Sunday's closing ceremony for the Paralympic Games.

Bailey Nicklen (11), of Davenport, Church Langley, was among a small group of youngsters chosen to feature in the opening sequence of the two-and-a-half hour televised showpiece.

"I was quite nervous when I stepped out into the stadium and saw all the people watching, but it was something I'll never forget," said Passmores Academy pupil Bailey.

"It's not every day you get the chance to be part of a show that's being watched by millions of people all over the world. It was an amazing experience."

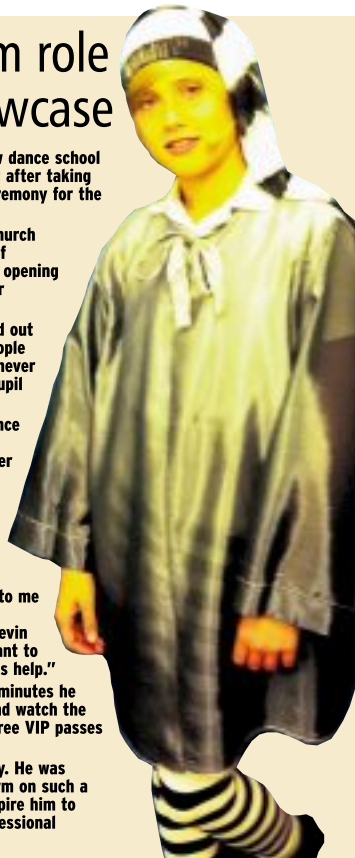

He was picked after being put forward for the role by the Harlow-based Kevin Adams Academy.

"Kevin has been a huge inspiration to me and a great tutor," Bailey added.

"Rehearsals were quite tough but Kevin made sure I was fully prepared. I want to say a big thank you to him for all his help."

Although his role lasted only a few minutes he and mum Leigh were able to stay and watch the rest of the show after being given free VIP passes by the show's producers.

Leigh said: "I was so proud of Bailey. He was incredibly brave to be able to perform on such a big stage and hopefully this will inspire him to follow his dream of becoming a professional performer."

A CYCLIST killed in a road collision in Harlow could still be alive if the ambulance service had responded sooner to the emergency call, witnesses have claimed.

Residents living in Herons Wood said it took more than half-an-hour for an ambulance to arrive at the scene of the crash in Elizabeth Way last Monday, despite the fact Princess Alexandra Hospital is less than a mile away.

They said the cyclist, who police named this week as 62-year-old Bishopsfield resident Robert Tyler, was still breathing for about 20 minutes after he was in collision with a car near the junction with Parndon Mill Lane.

But by the time the ambulance arrived at 7.33pm he was already dead.

"I can't help but think that poor man could still be alive today if the ambulance had got there sooner," one resident told the Star.

"Our garden backs on to Elizabeth Way and we heard the crash. By the time we went out onto the road to find out what had happened there were already lots of people trying to help, including members of Harlow Rugby Club who were at a training session on the playing fields opposite.

"The cyclist was clearly still breathing, but it seemed like we were waiting for ages for help to arrive."

Another witness said: "It must have been at least half-an-hour before the ambulance turned up. For such a serious incident I can't understand why it would have taken so long, especially when you consider PAH is just around the corner."

According to the East of England Ambulance Service, the emergency call was logged at 7.08pm, meaning the ambulance took exactly 25 minutes to arrive. But a spokeswoman said the incident had been graded as "serious but not life-threatening" based on the information given during the emergency call – meaning ambulance crews had arrived within their 30-minute target time.

If the call had been graded as "life-threatening" the target time would have been reduced to just eight minutes.

When asked why such a serious incident had been deemed "non life-threatening", the spokeswoman said: "This incident will be subject to a full and thorough internal investigation which will include a review of all the information given to our control room and how that information was dealt with.

"This was a tragic incident and our sincerest sympathies are with the family of the man involved."

Police are continuing to investigate the circumstances surrounding the crash. A 31-year-old Harlow woman arrested at the scene on suspicion of causing death by careless driving has been released on bail until next Wednesday pending further inquiries.

Hospice praised in care commission report

ST Clare Hospice has received a glowing review following an inspection by the Care Quality Commission.

The CQC, which regulates and inspects all health and social care services in England, made an unannounced visit to the Hastingwood hospice in the summer.

During the course of the day-long visit every aspect of care and reporting procedures were inspected. The views of patients using the services were also taken into account.

Hospice chief executive Tanya Curry said: "We are delighted that the high quality service we provide to the community has been recognised by the commission.

"I would like to thank every member of staff for the commitment they show to patients which results in such glowing feedback from those we care for."

Cancer treatment at PAH was superb

SIR, The Macmillian Cancer Care survey that rated Princess Alexandra Hospital one of the worst in the country (Star, September 6) obviously asked the wrong questions and spoke to the wrong people.

Late last year a routine operation to remove my appendix revealed a very rare cancer found in only one person in every million. Following a successful operation to remove the growth I was invited to undergo a course of chemotherapy at the specialist William's Day Unit attached to the PAH.

Contrary to what the Macmillian survey suggested, I have found that my treatment is, and has been, nothing less than superb. World class in fact.

Both nursing and support staff are dedicated, friendly and totally professional. I am able to discuss my treatment and progress on a regular basis with a consultant, meetings at which my immediate family members are encouraged to attend. My GP is kept informed of my progress and treatment.

Where necessary I have been able to consult a specialist doctor almost immediately without a prior appointment and on one occasion was telephoned at home, out of hours, by a member of the nursing staff, to answer a query I had raised earlier.

It seems that nothing is too much trouble for the doctors, nurses and support staff.

Late last year, while visiting the USA, I contracted a mild urinary infection. A four-minute consultation with a private doctor in a private hospital and a course of antibiotics set my holiday insurance company back $2,000 (about £1,700).

I imagine that the 40 million American citizens living in the richest country in the world who cannot afford basic minimum health insurance would be delighted to have the free at point of contact medical care provided by our local hospital.

Risks outweigh benefits of jobs

SIR, In the Star's front page story on the Health Protection Agency's proposal to move to Harlow, MP Robert Halfon MP is quoted as saying: "I will be doing everything I can to ensure the move goes ahead when Parliament is back in session on September 3."

The HPA website states that the remit of Porton (which may move to Harlow) includes specialist and reference microbiology services for high containment pathogens (infectious microbes such as bacteria or viruses, other parasites, such as fungi and protozoans).

The Level 4 containment facility at Porton Down is a research facility where researchers work under high-level biosecurity conditions on the most deadly and dangerous viruses such as ebola and dengue fever. Examples of 'class 4' pathogens are anthrax, avian flu, Crimean-Congo hemorrhagic fever, ebola, junin, lassa fever, machupo and marburg.

Let us ignore for the moment the huge risk to the Harlow population from site and transport accidents and consider the following benefit.

Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson said: "The council fully supports the move to Harlow and believes that it would bring many benefits for both the HPA in terms of location and to Harlow in terms of jobs."

The current vacancies for Porton Down shown on the HPA website are: Immuno Production Technician, BIG Autoclave Technician, Scientist, Senior Scientist (Principal Investigator) and Research Nurse (Bio-surveillance). Obviously more employment will be available should current jobholders not move from Porton Down, although I suspect the current housing development proposals suggest the council may be expecting that many of the HPA employees will transfer to the town. But unless Harlow has a pool of untapped scientists, most of the available employment may be low-level positions.

A review of the Highest Level Microbiological Containment Facilities in the UK claimed to be independent, albeit that its sponsors included the Health Protection Agency. The report did, however, state that: "Decisions on the geographical location of high containment facilities should be based on a robust, multi-faceted risk assessment in which microbiological science and all aspects of security, safety and public opinion are considered and on the existence of good links to academic centres of excellence."

If, like me, you believe that the risks far outweigh the benefit of a few jobs, I urge you to make your voice heard so that your children's future is not blighted. Failure to speak up will mean living in permanent fear of a deadly virus epidemic.

It would be pointless to write to those who so readily disregard the welfare of the Harlow residents so I suggest you send your letters to the Star. Perhaps it could then be the loudest voice for the people of Harlow.

We must do more to help disabled children

Photos of the week

TWO quite different inhabitants of gardens in Harlow feature this week.

The photo of the strange looking spider above was taken by Karl Mallia, of Hare Street Springs.

"I spotted it on a geranium leaf in my communal garden", he writes. "I have no idea what type of spider it is as I've never seen one like it. It seemed quite happy to pose for me, despite missing one leg. If any of your readers know what kind of spider this is, I'd be keen to find out."

The photograph of the bee on the flower was taken by reader Tony Edwards, who titled his picture 'Life in a Felmongers garden'.

Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it. Email a high resolution copy in jpeg format along with a brief description of your photograph along with when and where it was taken and your name and address to: star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line of your email.

ambassador I have learnt that 22 million children with disabilities around the world are excluded from education, condemning them to a lifetime trapped in poverty.

As part of our Paralympic legacy as a rich and caring nation, surely the UK should be doing more to help children with disabilities realise their full potential.

David Cameron is chairing the UK high-level panel on the post millennium development goals. It is to be hoped that what follows the millennium development goals is more inclusive of people with disabilities.

Town is under siege from housing plans

SIR, There appears to be a plan by councils bordering Harlow to build on their land, thereby ultimately putting a ring of housing around the town.

Harlow will, of course, be expected to provide many of the services for these areas as happened when Church Langley was built. It was on Epping Forest land until Harlow accepted it and the boundary was changed.

Herts County Council tried to do the same on the north and eastern side of town but so far these have sensibly been blocked by the arguments of Harlow residents.

There have not been any plans to improve any of the basic infrastructure. For instance, there are no extra trunk roads or bypasses to cater for extra traffic.

The road systems are now at breaking point as demonstrated by the inadequacy of the roads (road) out of two of the newest built areas of Church Langley and Newhall, and the four-hour 'rush hour'. When it snows or there is an accident on the M25 or M11, the traffic backs up and no-one can exit the Church Langley areas by car.

There is not enough extra sewage capacity, which is already very close to maximum. The local sewage works serves Harlow and Stevenage, where there is already a great deal of new housebuilding. Any more housing will overload the system which will mean overflows.

I understand that Princess Alexandra Hospital is also close to its limit serving the local as well as the wider area's health needs.

The latest plan is for around 1,200 homes to be built at West Summers. The development will stretch from Jacks Hatch to Water Lane and connect Summers, Summers Farm, The Maples and Milwards in one huge block of housing. The effect on the road system will be horrendous as the increase in traffic will impact on the minor roads in the areas from Harlow to Nazeing, Roydon, Broadley Common, Epping Green, and Epping.

People living in Epping can also expect an increase in cars being parked outside their houses. There will also be an adverse effect on the natural environment, of course.

If this development should be built, how many Harlow people who really need housing will be eligible for, or able to afford, these properties?

Many of the residents of Summers, Katherines, Broadley Common and Epping Green are opposed to this development as it will be unsustainable and will cause collapse of the road network and of the services required to sustain such a large amount of housing. There are better areas for housing south of Harlow – and south of Epping for that matter – which have much better transport systems. Why not build there?

Car driver in fatal accident thought he hit a deer

A DRIVER who left the scene of a fatal car accident in which a Harlow pensioner died has been found guilty of failing to report it to police.

Magistrates were told the Mercedes driven by Mohammed Mannan (51) struck 79-year-old Henry Bailey, of Dunstons, as he was walking along the A120 near Little Hadham on the night of Tuesday, March 27.

Mannan, of Crouch Gardens, Buntingford, briefly stopped his car but did not get out and drove home thinking he had hit a deer.

He later returned to the scene but although he found the road closed by police he still failed to report the accident.

Police had been called by a witness who had seen the damaged car and officers went to Crouch Gardens where the Mercedes was registered.

PC Jamie Nye told the court the windscreen was smashed on the passenger side and there was blood on the car's roof and rear.

Mannan, who was arrested at 12.05am the next day, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene but denied failing to report an accident to police as soon as was reasonably practicable.

Chairman of the bench John Gribbon told Mannan: "You and your witnesses told us firstly that there had been a serious collision that you intended to report to the police but that you and your family decided instead to go back to the scene of the accident.

"When you were stopped by the queue of traffic you decided to go home again and then report the matter to the police.

"We have decided there was at least one occasion when it was reasonably practicable for you to report to the police, notwithstanding the relatively short timescale."

Mannan was bailed to return to North and East Herts Magistrates Court in Stevenage for sentencing on Wednesday, September 26.

Family's pet dies after dog attack

KILLED: Poppy died from the horrific injuries she received in the attack by another dog (s)

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

A DEVASTATED family whose pet was killed in a brutal dog-on-dog attack have condemned the "cowardly" owner for running off.

Stan Brand, of Potter Street, Harlow, had taken his two three-year-old Jack Russells – sisters Poppy and Daisy – for their nightly walk at about 11.30pm last Tuesday when the attack happened.

"We hadn't got far down Potter Street when this huge, muscular dog suddenly came from behind me and latched itself on to Poppy," he explained.

"Both my dogs were on leads so I was trying to pull them away whilst kicking at the other dog to get it off. Finally the owner appeared and managed to throw a rope over his dog's neck.

"There was a lot of blood and it was obvious that Poppy was seriously injured, but he just ran off shouting 'sorry mate, sorry mate'."

Mr Brand rushed Poppy to a vet who confirmed she had suffered two puncture wounds to her left side, including a punctured lung, three to her right side, a perforated liver and internal bleeding.

"The vets were amazed she was still alive with the injuries she had received," he said. "They weren't able to operate immediately because she was in such shock so she went into surgery the next morning – but unfortunately she died shortly after.

"The trauma had just been too much."

Mr Brand said that when he reported the incident to the police he was told there was not a lot they could do.

"Devastated is a mild way to describe how we feel at the moment," he added. "I hope the owner reads this article and learns just how much pain and hurt he has put us through.

"Poppy was the most sweet natured, beautiful dog and everyone who met her just fell in love with her. She died in the most violent and awful way, something neither she nor us deserved to go through.

"I don't blame the dog at all, I blame the owners. The message we want to get across is that we are hurting because of this totally irresponsible and cowardly person.

"We would ask people to look out for this dog – which I think was a pitbull cross – and its owner. I also want to warn those out late at night in Potter Street to be careful as this animal is obviously dangerous.

Cameron's pat on the back for town's college

PRIME Minister David Cameron has congratulated staff and students at Harlow College after they achieved their best A-level results to date this summer.

During a meeting with Harlow MP Robert Halfon, the PM praised the college for achieving a 100 per cent pass rate at grades A*-E for the first time.

"Harlow College shows that if students work hard and are well supported they can achieve world class results," said Mr Cameron. "I wish the students all the very best for the future."

Mr Halfon said the results ranked the college top out of 230 further education and tertiary colleges in England according to Government data.

"I'm not at all surprised that they are now number one," he said. "Having visited the college on a number of occasions, the commitment and determination of the students and teachers to achieve excellence is profoundly clear."

"The new number one status is one of the best things to happen to Harlow. I am confident our community will come to be known as a magnet for aspirational people and businesses."

"We don't want money, we would just like the owner to come forward and show some remorse for what has happened."

A police spokeswoman said: "We are investigating to try to establish the owner of the other dog and whether any offences have occurred under the Dangerous Dog Act."

Anyone with information should contact PC Rob Hance at Harlow police station on 101.

Show support for the Lupus Five challenge

A HARLOW teacher is calling on the community to support a charity fund-raising challenge.

After months of preparation, the Passmores Academy Lupus Five endurance challenge in aid of charities supporting sufferers of the autoimmune disease finally kicked off this morning (Thursday).

Over the next five days a team of more than 50 students and staff will attempt to cycle, row and run 320 miles in relay groups from Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool to St Thomas's Hospital in Westminster before finishing at the Traces Road school.

Organiser Jules Ruddick, a student engagement teacher at Passmores, set up the event shortly after going into remission from the condition.

Despite suffering a knee injury less than a month ago, he is the only member of the team to be attempting the entire challenge.

"It has taken a lot of hard work and training but everyone has pulled together and are just buzzing about getting on with it now," he said. "I am really excited, if a bit nervous because of the knee, but I'm remaining positive."

With more than £13,000 already raised, Mr Ruddick urged local residents to support the team when they finish the challenge in Harlow on Monday.

"We hope to be coming past the Park Inn on Southern Way around 11am before following a route up Fifth Avenue and through the town centre," he said. "If all goes to plan we should finish at Passmores around lunchtime where hopefully there will be a big welcome party!"

"Staff members will be going alongside with collection buckets, but more than anything we will really appreciate people just coming out to give us a cheer."

He added: "This is the biggest thing most of us have ever done and has been amazing to watch the kids really progress as both individuals and as a team. I just want to say another big thank you to everyone who has supported us in any way and helped make the whole thing possible."

A SOLDIER from Harlow played a role in protecting the public during the Paralympics after working on the security team at the Olympic Park in Stratford.

Craftsman Robert Harris (24), of Colchester-based 13 Air Assault Regiment Royal Logistic Corps, was one of 3,500 military personnel stationed at venues across the capital during the Games, which ended on a high on Sunday night with a spectacular closing ceremony at the Olympic Stadium.

The former Stewards School student said: "The atmosphere has been fantastic. The fans have been really friendly and we've had everyone from Boris Johnson to the Sugababes through our search lane."

"Boris was really nice. He stopped to have a chat and say thank you for our work."

A small number of tickets were made available for soldiers every day and Cfn Harris was lucky enough to get the chance to experience the atmosphere inside the Aquatic Centre.

He added: "I couldn't believe how noisy it was, particularly when a British swimmer got in the pool!"

Soaking up the punishment

STAFF and customers got the chance to hurl wet sponges at their bank manager when the Harlow branch of NatWest held a fundraising fun day.

The event, which was to raise money for Passmores Academy's Lupus Five appeal, included competitions to guess the weight of the cake, the number of sweets in a jar and the name of a teddy bear.

But the most popular activity was the opportunity to throw sponges at branch manager John Meager.

"We raised £1,014 after a great turnout and a lot of very generous staff and customers," said local NatWest chief executive Sue Shilling.

The Lupus Five was originally set up by Passmores teacher and Lupus sufferer Jules Ruddick shortly after he went into remission from the disease. The aim is to raise £100,000 in a year through a series of fundraising events [see story to right of this page].

Academies forge new partnership for sixth formers

SECONDARY academies in Harlow have formed a unique sixth-form partnership to enhance and expand the town's existing A-level provision.

Starting from September next year, St Mark's, Burnt Mill, Passmores and Stewards will work together to provide a "continuous academic post-16 experience" for students at each school.

The bulk of teaching will initially be based in the sixth-form facilities at St Mark's in Tending Road, currently the town's only sixth form provider aside from Harlow College.

As the partnership progresses, plans are in place to provide extra A-level tuition at each academy, meaning students will be able to retain "strong pastoral links" with the schools that supported them throughout their GCSE studies.

St Mark's headteacher Elaine Heaphy said this week: "We are excited by this new partnership which will develop further the opportunities for the young people attending St Mark's sixth form."

"Working closely together we will be able to extend our provision in terms of the curriculum, enrichment and pastorally to provide an outstanding experience."

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The project has been launched in response to the Government's 'Raising The Participation Age' legislation, which comes into force in 2013 and requires all teenagers to continue their education or training until the end of the academic year in which they turn 17.

According to the schools involved, introducing separate sixth forms at each academy would be unsustainable, but the partnership plans will ensure the town is in a position to offer adequate sixth-form cover for the increase in student numbers.

Helena Mills, headteacher at Burnt Mill Academy, described the plans as "great news for the town".

"This is an excellent opportunity for the schools to work together and share our expertise and for Burnt Mill to have continued input into the education of the students we have nurtured for so many years," she added.

"This is great news for the town as well as all the partnership schools."

With additional specialist teachers available as a result of the partnership, students will also benefit from a greater choice of A-level subjects and have the option of working towards alternative vocational qualifications.

Passmores head Vic Goddard told the Star: "I am absolutely delighted that schools in Harlow are once again bucking the national trend and showing how we want to work together for the best interest of all of the young people of the town."

"This is an opportunity to take the best of all of our schools and to continue the pastoral care that is so important to all of our families."

Rhonda Murthar, headteacher of Stewards Academy, said the project would allow the town's secondary academies to build upon the successes of GCSE students in recent years.

"We are looking forward to working in collaboration to create an excellent A-level partnership in Harlow," she said.

"Harlow secondary schools have achieved outstanding success in recent years and now we can take this forward with St Mark's to create the very best school based A-level provision."

"This is a very exciting development which I know will be welcomed by parents, students and teachers alike."

Speed limit on road to be cut

THE speed limit on the road linking Harlow with Roydon could be cut by Essex County Council.

The proposal is to impose a speed limit of 40mph on Harlow Road from the Parkway roundabout to the junction with Littlebrook Road. The current limit along part of the road is 60mph.

The idea was warmly received by the Roydon parish councillors council at their meeting on Thursday.

Cllr John Sweeting said: "It ought to be 40mph all the way to Roydon. Drivers are doing 60 and get to the church hall before they get down to 40."

Park mosaics a glassy piece of work

NEW wall mosaics highlighting the variety of the tree population to be found in Harlow Town Park have been created at the paddling pool.

The seven designs are the result of a collaboration between local artists' co-operative Creative Space, Harlow Council and the Harlow Youth Offending Team and depict different types of leaves. They have been created using recycled crushed glass donated by O-I Glass, which has a factory in Edinburgh Way.

The mosaics were pieced together by youngsters at workshops hosted by Creative Space members Sarah Bracey, Jim Brown and Noriko Matsubara at The Young Concern Trust in Maddox Road.

"We wanted to promote recycling whilst highlighting the varied tree population found in the Town Park, as well as offering a new experience to disadvantaged young people," said Sarah.

"We'd like to thank everyone involved with the project and we hope people enjoy the mosaics!"

Sarah, Noriko and Jim are pictured by the mosaics.

Little Miss Jazzy J is a DJ delight

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FIVE-year-old girl looks set to become Harlow's latest internet sensation after a YouTube video of her DJ-ing went viral.

Since the clip of Jasmine Howell – aka Miss DJ Jazzy J – playing homemade record decks was posted up on the video-sharing website by her father Justin at the end of last month it has been viewed almost 20,000 times.

Dad Justin, of Belfield Gardens, said interest in the clip rocketed after Radio 1 DJ Annie Mac picked up on the video and re-posted it on her Facebook and Twitter accounts.

"It all started when Jasmine asked if she could have a go at DJ-ing like the people on a programme I was watching," said Justin, who is a part-time DJ himself.

"I decided to make her some decks out of cardboard boxes and filmed her first performance which was to a set by Annie Mac and vocalist Jessie Ware. She just seemed to have all the right moves, it was brilliant.

"For fun, and as a proud dad, I uploaded the video to YouTube and posted it onto Annie Mac's Facebook page so she could see her youngest fan in action. Before I knew it Annie had re-posted and tweeted it out and things just went mad!"

Justin said he now hopes to get Jasmine, who started at Church Langley Primary School last week, some real decks to see if she could develop her DJ skills and build on her newfound online fame.

"She definitely has a natural rhythm so it would be interesting to see what she can come up with next," he said.

"I put the clip up on YouTube under the title of UK/Essex's youngest female club DJ as a joke, but who knows. Perhaps she really could claim the title."

Book yourself a place on one of library service's free online learning courses

LIBRARY users can learn new skills by logging on to one of more than 400 free online courses provided by Essex County Council.

At any one time, members of Essex libraries will be able to register for up to five of the tuition courses which have been developed to both encourage the uptake of new hobbies and strengthen skills useful in the workplace.

Each of the courses – which cover subjects ranging from IT, writing and business skills to cookery and languages – consists of around 10-20 hours of video-based learning, written assignments and exercises, with ongoing support given by a tutor.

Learners have six months to finish each course and will receive a certificate upon completion.

"Learning has always been at the very heart of the library service," said councillor Jeremy Lucas, Essex County Council's cabinet member for customer service, environment and culture.

"We are very proud to have secured national funding allowing us to offer this superb range of free courses, in addition to all the other learning opportunities available through the library."

To view the range of courses available or to sign up, visit the council's website at www.essex.gov.uk/librarylearning.

No, that's definitely MY dad at Vinney's

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

WHO would have thought that a photograph taken in Harlow market more than 40 years ago could cause such a commotion?

We are referring, of course, to the ongoing dispute about the identity of the gentleman snapped sipping a drink at the counter of Vinney's refreshment bar in this photo from the early 1970s.

After originally reporting the man to be flower seller Steve Webb, Nicola Wood, of Potter Street, wrote in to say that she believed it was in fact her father, Garry.

But this week Michelle Webb – Steve's daughter – contacted the Nostalgia desk to confirm it was her dad after all.

"The lovely people who first suggested it is Steve Webb are absolutely correct," she said. "That is definitely my dad in the picture with his easily recognisable sideburns and money belt."

"He would have been working on the flower stall owned by Bernard Chapman at the time and he was about 23 or 24 years of age. It was taken just before my sister Donna and I were born."

According to Michelle, she and Donna spent a lot of time in the market after their mother, Shirley, joined their dad on the stall.

"I remember on Saturdays they would give us some money and pack us off to the cinema club at the Odeon to keep us occupied," she said.

"Otherwise we would spend a lot of time playing with the kids of other market workers, like Vinney's two children."

"We would also get roped in to help on particularly busy days like the Saturday before Mothering Sunday, although we tried to get out of it as much as possible."

Michelle said her dad lived for the market, working there for over 40 years and only stopping a few weeks before his untimely death three years ago.

"It was such a busy market back in the day and there was such a good community feel, everyone knew and looked out for each other," she said. "Sadly the stall was closed down after dad's death and there just isn't really a market there anymore."

She added: "Although I don't know who any of the other gents are in the picture or if they are still in Harlow, I can confirm that Vinney is still living in the town and believe he may still have a business down in the industrial area."

"I always remember him being a lovely man. There were many popular characters, including my dad, to be found in the market in those days."

Bicycle brothers

INSPIRED by a recent story in the Star about a group cycling from Harlow to the Olympic Park in Stratford, reader Sidney Rayner brought in some pictures of himself and his brother saddling up for a similar trip back in the 1950s.

"It was around 1958," said Sidney. "One day my brother George and I decided to cycle to Harlow from where we lived in Shepherds Bush. We just felt like doing it."

"These pictures are of us at the end of the trip standing in front of Edmunds Tower near Haydens Road." Sidney, who had family already living in Harlow, later joined them in the 1970s when he moved to a house in Fold Croft where he still lives.

"I have many good memories from my time living in Harlow," he added.

SIDNEY

A bird's eye view of town centre

According to Mr Kelk, who has lived in Harlow since 1957, it was an employee of his who took the snap whilst he concentrated on flying the light aircraft.

"The photo shows the ski slope, Harlow FC ground, the Sportcentre, Gilbeys bottling warehouse, the town centre, the old school which is now the college and the First Avenue roundabout," he writes.

"It is one of a batch mainly showing the Roydon caravan and camping site and lake, which were taken by an employee of mine to give to the owner of the site. I thought your readers may be interested in seeing it."

➔ A coach driver who left behind five members of a Harlow football club band on a day trip to Alton Towers has been defended by his bus company. A spokesman said the driver could only legally work for a maximum of 14 hours so had to leave at the allocated time.

➔ Nearly 10,000 people celebrated the forthcoming opening of the new Stansted Abbot's bypass on the road itself on Sunday. The two-mile bypass which will officially open in early October will alleviate traffic problems in the village and improve travel between Harlow and Hertford.

➔ Harlow Hospital Radio is celebrating after receiving a new mobile broadcasting unit. The group had a lucky break when a company offered them the lorry for £100, a fraction of the expected £10,000 cost.

➔ Harlow Playbus has come to the rescue of a playgroup made homeless while repairs are being carried out to its regular meeting place. Playleader Shirley Jones said it was the second time the Playbus had come to the group's rescue and they were extremely grateful.

SECRET MESSAGE Jruhu qa rozfguhf ta ab rayvqol? Rozfguhqoz

IT'S the cutest little critter you've never heard of - and unless scientists can help the endangered Pyrenean Desman it's unlikely you'll ever get the chance to see one, either.

The shy water mammal, which only comes out at night and lives in streams high up in the mountains of Spain, is thought to be on the verge of extinction because of changes to its natural habitat.

Numbers of the bizarre-looking creatures are falling rapidly and worried conservationists are trying to find out ways of protecting them from further harm.

It's believed that dams built to change the course of streams and rivers have made it increasingly difficult for the tiny animals, which are roughly the same size as hamsters and have glossy grey coats, to find food. A rise in the levels of water pollution is also thought to have had an impact on their population.

They survive on a diet of water-borne invertebrates, using their long black

Water mammal is such a little cutey

snouts and webbed feet to catch their underwater prey.

Scientists are trying to find out more about the elusive creatures by tracking their movements with microchips, but catching the slippery beasts is proving quite a challenge!

Wildlife biologist Pere Aymerich, who is working on the project with researchers from the University of Barcelona, told reporters very little was known about the animal because it was so tricky to study in the wild.

"They are very difficult to see due to their nocturnal activity and aquatic habitat," he explained. "To conserve or save any species, it is essential to know how it works and interacts with the environment."

"It is only with this information that we can plan a proper conservation plan for this rare and singular species."

Faith group to present awards to community's 'unsung heroes'

NOMINATIONS for a new awards scheme to recognise the contribution of individuals to the community are being sought by a local faith group.

Heart 4 Harlow, which was set up to help different congregations in the town engage with each other and the wider community, decided to set up the awards scheme to give some of the town's unsung heroes the recognition they deserve.

Twenty awards across five categories – private sector business, public service, education, voluntary and charitable sector, and sports and the arts – will be presented to the winners at a ceremonial dinner at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych on October 25.

"Everyone is invited to recommend individuals or groups to be considered for the awards," said organiser and town chaplain Rev Robert Findlay, pictured above.

"We are grateful to those who serve our community. The Heart 4 Harlow Awards 2012 are a way of recognising that sacrificial and committed service that helps to build our community experience in the town and surrounding district."

Nominations, which should include contact details about the individual or group, the category and a few lines about why they deserve to win, should be emailed to Mr Findlay at r.j.findlay@btinternet.com.

No need to think you must suffer in silence

ONE in seven people suffer from migraines yet 60 per cent do not bother to seek any help in the mistaken belief that nothing can be done.

Migraines are much more than just a headache. The Migraine Action Association says they are the most common neurological condition in the developed world, affecting more people than diabetes, epilepsy and asthma combined.

Symptoms can vary from person to person, but they usually begin as a throbbing pain at the front or on one side of the head which gets worse when you move. Some people will also suffer from nausea and sensitivity to light and it is not uncommon to experience visual disturbances such as blind spots, distorted vision, flashing lights or zig-zag lines.

Migraine attacks may differ in their frequency, duration and severity, although they normally last between four and 72 hours. Here in the UK they affect one in four women and one in 12 men, and nearly all will have their first migraine before they are 40.

Triggers

It is believed migraines are caused by the release of the chemical Serotonin into the bloodstream. Exactly what causes this to happen is still being researched but certain factors can trigger attacks.

These include emotional and physical stress, infrequent meals, alcohol (especially red wine), bright lights, smoking, loud noise, hormonal changes, high blood pressure, eye strain or the use of sleeping tablets.

Getting help

There is no specific test to diagnose migraines but to get an accurate diagnosis you must visit your GP who will identify a pattern of reoccurring headaches along with associated symptoms. Migraines can be unpredictable so obtaining an accurate diagnosis can sometimes take a long time.

To help with the diagnosis, keep a diary of your migraine attacks. Note down such details as the date, time and what you were doing when the migraine began. It is also helpful to make a note of the food you ate that day as this can help your GP identify any potential triggers.

The five stages of a migraine

There are five stages of a migraine, although not everyone will experience them all.

1. Prodromal (pre-headache): Some people experience changes in mood, energy levels, behaviour and appetite, and sometimes aches and pains several hours or days before an attack.

2. Aura: Some people experience a sensation, or aura, shortly before their migraine starts. Symptoms of aura include flashes of light or blind spots, difficulty focusing and seeing things as if you are looking through a broken mirror. This stage normally lasts around 15 minutes to an hour.

3. Headache: This is usually a pulsating or throbbing pain on one side of the head. You usually have nausea or vomiting, and extreme sensitivity to bright light and loud sounds, with a strong desire to lie down in a darkened room. This stage lasts for four to 72 hours.

4. Resolution: Most attacks gradually fade away. Some people find the headache stops suddenly after they have been sick. Sleep often relieves the symptoms.

5. Postdromal (recovery): There may be a phase of exhaustion and weakness afterwards.

When to see your GP

Around five per cent of migraines are a sign that something is seriously wrong. They are often accompanied by other warning signs; for example, a headache accompanied by a rash and a very high temperature could be meningitis.

Get medical advice urgently if your headache occurs suddenly and severely – especially after a blow to the head – or if it's accompanied by a fever or feelings of drowsiness.

Most migraines are not serious but they can affect your quality of life. You should see your GP if you feel that you cannot manage your migraines with over-the-counter painkillers. Also see your GP if you experience:

- aura symptoms that occur on the same side of your body with every attack
- your first ever migraine when you are over 50 years of age
- a change in your usual migraine symptoms
- more frequent migraine attacks

Treatments

There is currently no cure for migraines. However, many people find that paracetamol and aspirin can help to reduce their symptoms. These tend to be more effective if taken at the first signs of a migraine attack, giving them time to absorb into your bloodstream and ease your symptoms.

Combination medicines for migraines can be purchased over the counter at your local pharmacy. These medicines contain both painkillers and anti-sickness medicines. If you are not sure which one is best for you, ask your pharmacist.

If over-the-counter painkillers are not effective, your GP may prescribe you a stronger painkiller. If you are not responding to treatment or your migraines are not being well managed, your GP may then refer you to a specialist migraine clinic for further investigation.

It's important to remember that while most migraines do not mean something is seriously wrong, for those whose lives are affected by them help is still at hand.

A table for 10 at a Christmas party

AS we come to the end of summer, thoughts are already turning to Christmas.

And this week we are giving you the chance to win a table for 10 people on any night of your choice at this year's To Russia With Love-themed Christmas party hosted by Best Parties Ever the UK's leading Christmas party specialist.

The prize, which is worth £500, entitles a party of 10 to have a truly special party night out at North Weald Airfield.

Would-be spies shelter in the Russian forests as sword dancers welcome them into an authentic Cossack encampment before enjoying a pre-dinner Martini (shaken, not stirred) or glass of champagne at the glamorous Ice Bar.

After a thrilling sword dancers' duel, guests can take their seats in the dining room - set in a Tsar's palace - to enjoy a five-course dinner, accompanied by Bond girl aerial acrobats tumbling from the starlit skies.

Later, agents can take a gamble in the Casino Royale, jump on the exhilarating dodgems (a small charge applies) or head to the dance floor to dance the night away!

The party season runs from Friday, November 30 to Saturday,

Best Parties Ever.com

December 22, with prices starting from £34.50 (+ VAT) per person.

But we're giving away one table of 10 to the event on any night of your choice (subject to availability). To enter, simply answer this question:

To enter, visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the Competitions link under the 'Newspaper' tab. Be sure to enter 'Star Best Parties Ever!' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted. The closing

LONGWOOD PRIMARY Meeting new friends while keeping active was the aim for youngsters attending a children's club held during the summer holidays.

Zorbing, an Olympic sports day, aqua jets and a trip to Diggerland were on the agenda for children attending the Chill-out Club based at the Paringdon Road school.

"We had around 130 kids join us at some point over the summer holidays this year and everyone had a really good time," said club manager Tracey Watkins.

"It is a great, social way for children to keep active during their holidays whilst giving some peace of mind to parents who have to work that their kids are having fun in a safe environment."

She added: "We've had so much going on this summer that I think we're all ready for a rest now. I'm exhausted!"

LATTON GREEN PRIMARY An extra large cake was needed when current pupils were joined by former students to help kick off celebrations for their school's 50th birthday.

Festivities for the anniversary year began during last term's final assembly when youngsters showed their visitors original school magazines, photographs and old school reports before taking them on a tour of their old school.

"It was quite an emotional time for our visitors who had such vivid memories of time spent together in the early days of our school," said head Lorna Handscomb.

"They also noticed huge differences in the atmosphere at school now compared to the 1960s – and told us a few horror stories of how teachers treated the children then!"

BLOSSOMS NURSERY From mucking in on local allotments to visiting the seaside, youngsters have enjoyed an action-packed few weeks at the Church Langley-based nursery this summer. The group have kept busy come rain or shine with a host of fun and educational activities, including trips to Harlow fire station, Old MacDonald's Farm in Brentwood, Harlow Central Library and local garden centres.

According to nursery manager Bobbi Chana, the children have also been learning about growing crops.

"They have enjoyed making their very own gardens using soil, stones, recycled art and small props and planted their own magic seeds," she said.

"They have been growing potatoes and pumpkins and also got to taste food from all around the world."

Revival of sketch show offers room for revue

review

Life, Death & Everything
Harlow Theatre Company
Victoria Hall Theatre, Old Harlow

YOU can't please all the people all the time, but Harlow Theatre Company gave it a damn good try with their latest revue.

The first show of its kind produced by HTC since the group relocated to Victoria Hall, this was a thoughtful, provocative and above all uplifting musing on the human condition.

This was no mean feat because, while choosing to grapple with the eternal themes of love and death gave director Bernard Moule plenty of material to mine, there was always a danger the show would be defined by what hadn't made the final cut.

But the experienced HTC stalwart, who directed the company's first-ever play back in 1978, neatly sidestepped this potential pitfall by ensuring the revue remained accessible throughout while still giving the audience plenty of food for thought.

This meant the show rarely strayed from familiar territory. But when this included extracts from Stoppard and Shakespeare, poems from Burns and Browning and multiple excerpts from Oh What A Lovely War there will have been few complaints.

There were plenty of laughs, too, with rib-tickling sketches from Carol Shields, Balle Kumar and the director himself showcasing the cast's talent for comedy, while Louise Simmons impressed with rousing renditions of Carole King's Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow and Bob Dylan's Make You Feel My Love.

The 12-strong cast, all decked out in T-shirts emblazoned with hearts and skulls, remained on stage throughout, meaning the transitions between scenes were near-seamless. And with seasoned actors including Steve Foster, Alyssa Upton and Alan Jones sharing the stage with relative newcomers like Shane Whitworth, Mitchell Rous and Dolly Howlett, the show was as much a celebration of the rich pool of talented performers at HTC's disposal as it was a thought-provoking exploration of our preoccupation with love and death.

As the group's newly-appointed artistic director, Bernard has already signalled his intention to resurrect the revue as a regular fixture in the company's calendar.

On this evidence, the format surely has a bright future at Victoria Hall.

Andy's one-act double header

THE cult of celebrity and reflections on lost love provide the inspiration for two original one-act plays at Victoria Hall Theatre next week.

Written and directed by local playwright Andrew Prangnell, To Be Someone and The Last Dance will be staged back-to-back on the same bill – promising audiences something completely different either side of the interval.

To Be Someone is a tweaked version of a short play originally written by Andy back in 2004 and tells the story of a celebrity-obsessed housewife who wins a competition to have one of her favourite personalities visit for the day.

But dreams of striking up a lasting friendship with her idol are soon dashed when her visitor reveals herself to be a snooty, self-obsessed snob, leading the woman to re-evaluate her fascination with celebrity culture.

The Last Dance takes the form of a dramatic monologue performed by professional actress Linda Clark (Doctor Who, Emmerdale, That Peter Kay Thing), who plays a lonely widow reflecting on the ups and downs of her relationship with her late husband – and the couple's passion for dance.

"They're two very different plays, but hopefully the themes explored in both with strike a chord with audiences," said Andrew.

"To Be Someone was first performed by Harlow Theatre Company back in 2004 but it was later picked up by a couple of theatre companies up north.

"After going up to Doncaster to see one of the productions I was inspired to tweak the script and put it on again. This version will be extra special for me as it features both my sister, Jane, and daughter, Ellie."

He added: "The Last Dance was written especially for Linda, who I've known for years."

The double-header opens next Thursday (September 13) and runs for three nights, starting at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) from 07809 759269 or afterglowproductions@hotmail.co.uk.

Regan's return in the daddy of TV cop shows

certificate 15, 1h52m

FLYING Squad hard man Jack Regan returns to the big screen with some old-fashioned brutality in Nick Love's revamp of the classic 1970s TV series. In the same way that the daredevil antics of Riggs and Murtaugh in Lethal Weapon put a fictional gloss on life on the streets for the LAPD, The Sweeney is completely divorced from the reality of modern policing in London.

Car chases career through the shimmering glass and metal structures of Canary Wharf at dizzying speed to the pounding beat of Lorne Balfe's score and a shoot-out in Trafalgar Square leaves ancient monuments riddled with bullet holes.

Love's script, co-written by John Hodge, follows DI Regan (Ray Winstone) and sidekick George Carter (Ben Drew) as they hunt a gang of wily European thieves led by slippery Francis Allen (Paul Anderson).

Unfortunately, the team cannot find sufficient evidence to charge Allen and they are forced to let him go after hours of intense questioning.

Tensions within the department explode when internal affairs officer Ivan Lewis (Steve Mackintosh) embarks on a personal crusade to bring down Regan, who just happens to be bedding Lewis' wife Nancy (Hayley Atwell). Section chief Frank Haskins (Damian Lewis) protects his boys and girl in the Flying Squad as much as he can, but internal affairs clearly has a vendetta and will stop at nothing until the team is disbanded and Regan languishes behind bars.

Filmed on location in London, The Sweeney embraces every cliché imaginable as Regan propels his department to the brink of self-destruction. Car chases are well choreographed and Winstone plays the daddy of the department with tightly coiled intensity.

The romantic subplot with Atwell defies credulity - Winstone looks like he would rather chew off her face than kiss it - and their bedroom scene inspires unintentional snorts of derision.

By contrast, Drew (aka rapper Plan B) underplays his role but still gets involved in the bruising fisticuffs and a climactic showdown that pokes fun at the British love affair with caravan and trailer parks.

HOPE SPRINGS

ARNOLD Soames (Tommy Lee Jones) and his wife Kay (Meryl Streep) celebrate their latest wedding anniversary by buying each other cable television subscriptions.

The couple's children - Brad (Ben Rappaport) and Molly (Marin Ireland) - sense all is not well but Arnold appears unconcerned, content to stick to the same routines and sleep in a separate room to his wife.

Kay is deeply unhappy. "When was the last time you touched me that wasn't for a picture?" she tearfully asks her spouse.

In desperation, Kay uses her savings to buy a series of intensive counselling sessions for couples with Dr Bernie Feld (Steve Carell), who runs the courses from his offices in coastal Maine.

PARANORMAN (3D & 2D)
certificate PG, 1h32m

WHEN a small town comes under siege by zombies, who are you going to call?

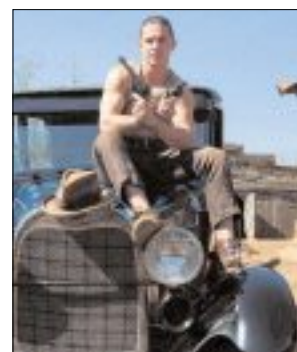

Well if you've got any sense it will be misunderstood local boy Norman (voiced by Kodi Smit-McPhee), who is able to speak with the dead.

A surprise visit from deranged uncle Prenderghast (John Goodman) casts a dark cloud over the sleepy New England town of Blithe Hollow. "The witch's curse is real and you're the only one who can stop it," he tells Norman.

In addition to the zombies, he'll have to take on ghosts, witches and, worst of all, moronic grown-ups, to save his town from the centuries-old curse. But before long this young ghoul whisperer finds his paranormal activities pushed to their otherworldly limits.

>>still on screen

LAWLESS In the mountains of Franklin County, local cops turn a blind eye to the bootlegging activities of Forrest Bondurant (Tom Hardy) and his siblings Howard (Jason Clarke) and Jack (Shia LaBeouf, pictured above). The brothers run a successful bar and eke out a comfortable living by trading moonshine, but their business empire threatens to crumble when sadistic special deputy Charley Rakes (Guy Pearce) arrives from Chicago on a mission to shut down the distilleries at the behest of district attorney Mason Wardell (Tim Tolin).

ANNA KARENINA Anna (Keira Knightley) travels from St Petersburg to Moscow to provide emotional support to her sister-in-law Dolly (Kelly Macdonald), who has just discovered an affair between her husband Oblonsky (Matthew Macfadyen) and the family governess. En route, Anna meets Countess Vronskaya (Olivia Williams) and her son, dashing cavalry officer Count Vronsky (Aaron Taylor-Johnson), who is wooing Dolly's 18-year-old sister Kitty (Alicia Vikander). At the latter's debutante ball, Anna dances shamelessly with Count Vronsky, sowing the seeds of her downfall.

DREDD (3D) In the near future, America has been reduced to an irradiated wasteland and more than 400 million people are crammed into Mega City One which is patrolled by lawmakers called Judges. The Chief Judge (Rakie Ayola) asks universally feared Judge Dredd (Karl Urban) to assess rookie Cassandra Anderson (Olivia Thirlby), a mutant with devastating psychic powers. Reluctantly, Dredd mentors Anderson and they are soon called on to investigate reports of a triple homicide.

BRAVE (2D only) Determined to make her own path in life, Princess Merida (voiced by Kelly Macdonald) defies a custom that brings chaos to her kingdom. Granted one wish, Merida must rely on her bravery and her archery skills to undo a beastly curse.

DIARY OF A WIMPY KID: DOG DAYS Wise-cracking tyke Greg Heffley (Zachary Gordon) is looking forward to spending the summer in front of a TV playing video games. However, his mother Susan (Rachael Harris) has other ideas and encourages her husband Frank (Steve Zahn) to engage with Greg, enrolling the lad in the Wilderness Explorers so they can spend quality time together in the great outdoors.

Your stars with
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
This week provides an excellent opportunity to grapple with life's nitty-gritty issues. But as much as you can't have some mix, that doesn't mean to say you can't have some fun. And in fact, the more this occurs off the cuff, the happier you will be. You may be asked out unexpectedly, and any invitation, even a down town one, can be cathartic. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
The Sun and Mercury are very close together for much of this week. Because of this, it's going to be very important you don't jump too easily to conclusions. Your level of sensitivity may be high, and you may find yourself more fretful than usual. The upside is that one friend can cheer you up with a surprise invitation, or even a date can emerge. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
This can be one of those delicious and unexpected times when something good occurs, without any prior warning. This jolly news could be focused on the family or a close friend. Someone may be about to announce an engagement or new addition, or help you out financially with a home improvement plan. You may decide to hold an impromptu party. Call for more news and advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Your mind can be very focused on future plans, networking and friendships. In fact, this can be one of those weeks action packed with possibilities - if you can reach out to others. In fact, the more you look to forge links, the better you can do. However, this calls upon you to put that more cautious, even wary part of your nature to one side. Call for more news and advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
A surprise call from an old friend can delight you. You can also find yourself making new associations, but the interesting part of this is just who you want to spend time with. More caring individuals can appeal, but your desire for sparkling exchanges means you could also draw someone unusual. The more you talk, the more you can build your bond. Call me for more...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Not everyone wants to be a business mogul, but each of us has our own ambitions and goals, and yours continue to be to the fore. This can see you meeting influential types, or telling people about what you have to offer. It can even see you being more authoritative when it comes to managing the kids - if you have any. Be single minded in what you do. Call now for more news and advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
You are known for your feeling nature, but this is a time to show you can be mind-sharp, the very mind sharp. Dazzle people with your great ideas. Grapple with and make use of technology. Learn new skills. In fact, anything which makes life varied and interesting can see you shine. If you embrace this, an exciting opportunity at work can open up. Call now for more news and advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
If the travel bug has been gripping you lately, and even if you have been away, the chances are current trends can stimulate even more desire to explore. If your circumstances make this difficult, new interests and hobbies can help oxygenate this possibility. Curiosity can definitely be a driver. You may also make some sudden changes at home. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Your mental dexterity can work to your advantage, so keep the ideas going on the cash generation front. You might find yourself circulating quite a few options in your mind, and some you may instantly reject, some you may surprise, eventually reject, but some might start to take root and become more. In love, something or someone random can have a chance to add some spice and spark. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Continue to use your talent for getting beneath the surface of situations to help others, which often gives you great satisfaction, or to express your flair. Don't be too concerned with the feedback you get from others. This can be an enriching time to connect with the most authentic side of your nature. It's what you feel that really counts. So have the confidence to follow your muse. Call me now for more news and advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

A Different Approach

Most people reading this fall into one of three categories. Either, 1) you are looking to buy, in which case you are probably using the internet as your main way of accessing properties for sale, or 2) you are thinking of selling and are researching which agent you might consider approaching, or 3) you are not currently thinking of moving, but have an active interest in property issues and the local market.

If you fall into the first category, ie buying, then the properties in our advert represent only a very small selection of those available on our books. The rest can be found on our website, and on several of the UK's most effective property portals, such as Rightmove, on which all of our properties feature.

But if you are thinking of selling, or may do so in the future, you are probably more interested in meaningful and relevant property-related advice, information and tips, rather than the fact that we have loads of properties for sale. You'll want to know what the selling experience would be like using a refreshingly different approach, and working closely with up-beat, forward-thinking professional property marketing consultants who love their work and deliver results.

So from next week, we'll be running a series of well-considered property articles that draw on our many years experience in estate & letting agency, combined with the very latest ideas to help you maximize your sale & letting prospects. This will cover a wide variety of moving/improving topics which we hope will not only provide you with straight-talking reliable advice, but which, over time, will also give you a good understanding of how we approach not only property, but also the relationship we enjoy with our staff and, of course, our valued clients.

So look out for next week's article your timing could be perfect!

Think carefully before securing other debts against your home. Your home may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage.

We do not charge fees for arranging your mortgage as we are paid by the lender. However, if you prefer, you can pay us a broker fee of up to 1.5% of the mortgage amount and receive the lender's fee yourself.

MORTGAGE MARKET UPDATE

The number of lenders increasing their Standard Variable Rate (SVR) increased again recently with Santander, or Abbey as they were, announcing that they were going to increase by 0.50% to 4.74% from October.

If you have a mortgage with them and are on this SVR, or your current deal is coming to an end and changing to the SVR.....your payments will be going up

But potentially there is an alternative, the remortgage market has picked up with lenders reducing rates to attract business.

If you want to feel as green as it is possible to feel behind the wheel, there's not much that can top the sensation of humming along in virtual silence as an electric motor delivers your forward motion.

Toyota has spent more than a decade refining and improving its hybrid drive system and at the same time has spread it over an increasing range of models. Now they are offering the still-fresh Yaris supermini in hybrid form for the first time.

It's hard to spot that dual-power Yaris from its conventionally-powered cousins. Toyota hybrid geeks will notice the blue-tinted badge at the front and a discreet 'Hybrid Synergy Drive' appliqué at the rear.

But the biggest change is arguably the most beneficial – due to the extra cooling demands of the hybrid system there is a substantially larger grille at the front and the bumper has been restyled to accommodate it.

It gives the Yaris Hybrid a bit more presence than the standard car and is all the better for it.

Mechanically there are no great surprises in store, just a few small detail tweaks to the hybrid recipe. It uses essentially the same set up as the

Fact File

Toyota Yaris Hybrid

£15,895

ENGINE: 1.5-litre petrol/electric motor producing 98bhp
TRANSMISSION: CVT automatic driving the front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 103mph, 0-62mph in 11.8 secs
ECONOMY: 80.7mpg
CO<sub>2</sub> RATING: 79g/km

Auris Hybrid but with the four-cylinder petrol engine downsized to a more suitable 1.5-litres.

Sandwiched into the Yaris's underbody is the petrol engine, inverter, electric motor and battery pack. Even more impressive than that is the cabin space which is unchanged over the standard car.

Slotting all this tech into the diminutive Yaris inevitable means an impressive set of stats. The headline figures of 80.7mpg combined and 79g/km are spectacularly low, on a par with the best eco-diesel superminis and significantly better than any rival petrol powered car.

It also has a significant advantage over conventionally-powered rivals in that it can operate in all-electric mode.

There's very little to distinguish the Yaris Hybrid from its siblings once you've climbed inside.

The cabin is identical apart from a slightly different instrument display to keep you updated on the actions of the powertrain. It's a simple and well laid-out interior with sizeable buttons and clear displays. It might not be the most exciting interior but it is obviously well built.

Start it up and drive away with the car in Eco mode and whenever possible the Yaris will accelerate smoothly and silently away solely on electric power. That doesn't necessarily mean slowly either, as you need a strong prod of the accelerator to get it to jump into petrol power.

When the 1.5-litre petrol engine does kick in it does so without any huge fuss and unless you have the right pedal pinned to the carpet there's very little in the way of noise. The system drives through a CVT gearbox for maximum efficiency although the flip side to this is a steady hum from the engine when full acceleration is called for, but that shouldn't be very often in a car this frugal.

When driven with care and restraint

the Yaris Hybrid is in its element, and keeping a close eye on the system status in the instrument cluster promotes a thrifty driving style. Do so and your reward is not only low fuel consumption but also low noise as the petrol engine falls silent when not needed, even if the speedometer happens to read over 31mph.

Adding to the relaxing experience is the fact that the suspension does a good job of soaking up bumps. While it's no limousine the Yaris Hybrid delivers a relaxed drive.

The flip side is that the Yaris is not as much fun as some of its keen rivals and anyone looking for an eco-supermini with a sporty flavour is looking in the wrong place.

However the Yaris Hybrid is very good at what it is designed to do – provide a fuss-free, highly economical drive with the potential for all-electric running and do so while offering a good specification.

Against limited hybrid competition in this sector the Yaris Hybrid is far and away the best offering. Whether it matches up against diesel-powered opposition is a matter for the spreadsheet and the style council, but either way there is no doubting that the Yaris Hybrid is an impressive all-round package.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF). Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc
The Proposed Fieldes Lock Power Station Order

Section 56 Planning Act 2008

Regulation 9 Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009

NOTICE OF ACCEPTANCE OF APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER

("DCO") BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Planning Inspectorate Reference: EN010046

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State has accepted an application by Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (the "Applicant") of 8th Floor, 210 Pentonville Road, London, N1 9JY for a DCO under the Planning Act 2008 (the "Application"). The Application was submitted by the Applicant to the Secretary of State, via the Planning Inspectorate, on 14 August 2012 and was accepted on 07 September 2012. The Planning Inspectorate reference number for the Application is EN010046.

The Project

The Application seeks consent for the construction and operation of the Fieldes Lock Power Station and associated development (the "Project"). The power station will produce electricity from a combination of natural gas and Solid Recovered Fuel (and/or similar residual waste) predominantly by rail but also by road. It will have a nominal gross electrical output of 54.5 Mega Watts.

The DCO Application Boundary comprises land that, for the purposes of this Application, is described as the 'Site' and land that is described as 'Other DCO Land'.

The Site is located at land off Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire EN11 0RF and covers an area of approximately 5.6 hectares, currently occupied by an aggregates depot and rail sidings. The Site is adjacent to the existing Rye House Power Station and to the West Anglia Main Line railway. At its closest point, the Site boundary is within a few metres of the River Lee. Road access to the south of the Site is via Ratty's Lane, which leads to the A10 via Essex Road and Danat Link Road. The Other DCO Land adjoins the Site and comprises Ratty's Lane, part of St. Martins Road, part of Essex Road, land adjacent to Essex Road and an area of towpath and channel of the River Lee.

The Nationally Significant Infrastructure Project (NSIP) is located on the Site. The components of the NSIP are listed below.

Components of the NSIP (on the Site):

- Demolition of existing buildings and structures.
- A road-reception transfer bunker, a fuel storage bunker and an automated two grab crane system to move fuel from the storage bunker to supply the combustion process lines.
- A boiler hall with two combustion process lines.
- A separate gas boiler to superheat the steam.
- A turbine hall where superheated steam is fed into the condensing turbo generator.
- Water treatment equipment.
- Fire tanks and pump house.
- A Flue Gas Treatment System including storage silos for delivery and storage of materials used for treatment and silos for storage of flue gas treatment residues.
- A Conveyor system to transfer bottom ash into an enclosed storage hall for transfer off-site.
- One stack for discharge of flue gas from the gas superheater.
- Two standby power generators with associated equipment and stacks.
- Twin chimney stacks rising from the main building for discharge of the cleaned flue gases.
- Air Cooled Condensers.
- An enclosed tipping hall for fuel to be received by road incorporating the road reception transfer bunker.
- A facility to enable steam pass outs and/or hot water pass outs; and/or carbon dioxide pass outs and/or flue gas pass outs providing a Combined Heat and Power ready design to enable beneficial use of heat, that could be provided (as part of a subsequent consent application) via a related Heat Network.
- An administration/visitor centre.

Development associated with the NSIP (Associated Development) is located on the Site and on the Other DCO Land, as listed below.

Associated Development on the Site:

- Weighbridges,
- Car parking and cycle storage facilities.
- Storm water attenuation pond.
- Landscaping works including flood compensation storage.
- Gate house.
- Internal roadways and the provision of footpaths, cycleways and footpath linkages.
- A sustainable drainage system.
- Demolition of existing buildings and structures.
- Modifications to the existing spur and signalling.
- Modifications to the existing rail sidings and construction of a platform.
- Two automated overhead cranes with supporting structure and screen, including tipping devices for the transfer of containers from the overhead cranes to the SRF bunker.
- Natural gas compound (conditioning and metering facilities) to supply gas to the Facility.
- Electrical step-up transformers and substation for export of electricity to the national grid.
- A utility connection trench containing high or medium pressure gas pipes, 132kV electrical cables, domestic water pipe, sewage pipe and telecoms apparatus, commencing at the main building and running in a southerly direction along the rail sidings.
- Construction laydown areas and any temporary structures required for construction.
- Site fencing.

Associated Development on the Other DCO Land:

- Utility connection trenches containing medium pressure gas pipes, 132kV electrical cables, domestic water pipe, sewage pipe and telecoms apparatus, including connections to the UK Power Networks 132kV Substation at Rye House and to the existing National Grid medium pressure distribution system at the junction of Essex Road and Dobbs Weir Road.
- Upgrading and improvement of Ratty's Lane and access to and from Ratty's Lane including introducing traffic management measures, resurfacing, installation of street furniture and fencing and resurfacing Ratty's Lane car park.
- A surface water outfall to River Lee connected to the Site's sustainable drainage system.
- The provision of footpaths, cycleways and footpath linkages.
- Construction laydown areas and any temporary structures required for the construction of the above works.

The Application also seeks the following authorisation for the Project:

- The permanent and/or temporary compulsory acquisition (if required) of land and/or rights for the Project;
- The overriding of easements and other rights over or affecting land for the Project;
- The application and/or discontinuation of legislation relevant to the Project; and
- Such ancillary, incidental and consequential works, permits, consents or provisions as are necessary for the Project.

Environmental Impact Assessment

The Project constitutes "EIA development" for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. This means that it constitutes development for which Environmental Impact Assessment is required. Therefore, an Environmental Statement accompanied the Application.

Copies of the application form and the accompanying documents, plans and maps, including the draft DCO and Environmental Statement, are available for inspection free of charge from 17 September until 19 October 2012 at the following locations and during the hours set out below:

Langley loving goals boost from McDonalds

A YOUTH football club from Harlow has been given a generous kick start from a McDonalds franchisee.

Tony Fagg has donated 20 sets of FA training goals and 70 pro-footballs to help Langley Colts Youth FC.

Mr Fagg has been a huge help to Langley Colts and is also encouraging staff from his McDonalds branches in Harlow to get involved with coaching.

Mr Fagg is a franchisee for the restaurants at Howard Way, Staple Tye and Hastingwood, as well as the town centre.

He will fund any employees who would like to gain their FA coaching badges to help the club.

The Church Langley-based club, which has expanded to 21 teams including three girls sides since it received FA Charter Standard club status in 2007, will use the new equipment across all of its age groups.

England 1966 World Cup Final hat-trick hero, Sir Geoff Hurst, who is McDonalds Director of Football, said: "Tony's commitment to Langley Colts is great to see and it helps grassroots football go from strength to strength in the area."

David Fox, an U-11 coach at Langley Colts, said: "We are incredibly grateful to Tony for his continued support and for providing all this equipment at the start of the season. The goals and footballs will help our coaches conduct training sessions throughout the season."

McDonalds, community partner of the FA, is dedicated to supporting grassroots football by helping to raise standards and develop best practices across the game.

Second best for resurgent HAC

A STRONG end to their Southern Women's League division one campaign was made by the Harlow Athletic Club team.

The Mark Hall Sportscentre-based team finished second at Braintree with 222 points, behind winners Hercules Wimbledon in a six-club meeting.

The result meant that Harlow ended the season in a three-way tie for third place in the eight-team division with Braintree & Paddock Wood.

There were excellent Harlow performances in both senior and junior women's competitions.

In the juniors, Naomi Harryman won the 100metres in 13.8seconds, ahead of Amy Hunt (13.9s), who also completed the 200m in 29.5s.

Harryman then threw a personal best (PB) of 8.51m in the shot put before an injury ruled her out of any further participation in the meeting.

Ellie Williams threw a season's best of 12.64m in the javelin and Abbie Campbell was consistent in the 200m (30.5s) and shot put (6.22m).

ATHLETICS

In the 800m, Elise Walker injured herself on the first bend but carried on to finish in 3 mins 1.37, earning valuable points for the team.

In the senior competition, Dawn Jones was supported by a trio of athletes who have only just returned to the club: Claire Broadbent, plus sisters Isobel and Eleanor Moss.

They were joined by debutants Blanche Haidara and Sarah Smith.

Jones won the high jump (1.45m) and was second in both the long jump (4.33m) and triple jump (10.17m).

In B string events, Claire Broadbent won the 200m (28.8s) and high jump (1.35m) while Blanche Haidara won the 100m (14.9s) and 200m (30.4s) races.

Sarah Smith took part in all of the throwing events and won the hammer (47.04m).

Finally, Eleanor Moss won the javelin (27.94m).

Isobel Moss, minutes after running the 1,500m in 5:39.6, joined Jones, Haidara and Broadbent to win the 4x100m relay in 58.0s.

Harlow team manager, Steve Lott, said: "That was the largest team we have put out for some time. It's fantastic to see so many willing to compete.

"There is a strong core to the team now and a group of talented and committed young athletes right at the heart of our resurgence."

He added: "The future's looking bright and I'm very proud of all of them.

"Maybe next year we can rival the achievements of our men's team!"

Narrow defeat for men's tennis team

HARLOW Tennis Club's men's team lost to Elsenham by 4.5 points to 3.5 at home in division one of the Essex Small Club's League.

This was despite excellent form from home pair Alex Dodd and Fred Lloyd, who picked up 3.5 points and conceded only 0.5 in their two matches.

Dodd and Lloyd played extremely well to beat the strong Elsenham pair of Hussain Shaida and Ben Stiles 6-6, 6-2.

Dodd and White then defeated Mike Stiles and Mike White 6-0, 6-0.

In contrast Harlow pair Steve Dodd and Paul Pattison lost their first game 3-6, 2-6.

This was hard fought with long service games and lots of deuces.

In their second game the second Harlow pair were completely outplayed by Hussein Shaida and Ben Stiles, losing 0-6, 0-6.

Hill on the climb

ALEX Hill impressed on Herts Phoenix Athletic Club's final Southern Athletics League meeting of the year at Norwich.

In the final race of the afternoon, Hill helped her team win the 4x400metre relay with an extremely convincing victory margin of 17 seconds.

The club finished in ninth place overall out of the 16 clubs in the division.

Match result: 1. City of Norwich 210pts; 2. Havering Mayesbrook 203.5; 3. Herts Phoenix 164; 4. Ashford 140.5.

Boss Spur-red into action

that striker Piers Wixon has come through well in training following a hamstring injury.

He came on as a substitute in Harlow's last game against Witham Town 12 days ago and could be ready to start his first match since April 28 against Ilford.

Another forward, Jeff Hammond, is likely to feature on the bench as he has reported no reaction to a hamstring injury, which has kept him out of the campaign so far.

The Brentwood game has taken on more importance after Harlow's early exit from the FA Cup.

A win against their fellow Ryman League division one north rivals will give the Hawks £2,300 in prize money.

Chapman said: "We were disappointed with the FA Cup [a 2-1 home defeat to Hadleigh United] and it would be good to have a cup run.

"It would lift everybody at the club and would be good financially.

"We are looking forward to it and Brentwood will be a decent side. It will be a hard game.

"The players are definitely up for the game."

Defender Mark Taylor (hamstring injury) is still ruled out, but should be back for the Hawks' rearranged league game at Waltham Forest on Wednesday September 26.

This was originally due to be played on Saturday September 22 but because of Forest's scheduled FA Cup tie against Hampton & Richmond on that day, this will go ahead four days later if Forest have no Cup replay.

Buc's hit for six

JASON Phillips started the new season in the Harlow Premier Darts League with three 180s in Sawbo Brewery's 6-2 with over Bucaneers.

Champions ServoLink beat Colt Hatch SC 6-2 with the help of Ron Green's 180.

Crusader lost 2-6 at home to last season's runner-up White Admiral. Keith Arber (singles champion) shot out on 102 for Admiral.

Staple Tye Colts beat Golden Swift 7-1 with the help of a 136 out-shot from Doug Thomas.

Newcomers Paringdon Social Club battled out a 4-4 draw with Moot House Raiders as did Stow Snooker Club and Tye Green Whites.

Tye Green Foxes took an 8-0 win by default over Heart & Club.

Town's last league game called off over pitch farce

HARLOW Town's first season in the Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League ended on a bizarre note for the club's first team.

Their scheduled match at West Essex did not take place because no pitch on the square was ready!

This meant the game was awarded to Harlow Town who got 20 points.

But it was still annoying for Harlow Town who had already lost three games to bad weather this summer.

West Essex are based in Chingford.

Harlow Town skipper Dan Calver and the West Essex captain agreed with the umpires that the match could not go ahead.

Calver said: "We want to play every week-end and as many games as we can. It was not prepared and there was no wicket cut."

It transpired that West Essex had told the local authority, Waltham Forest Council, that it only needed the pitch up until September 1.

Town finished fourth in division three of the 1st XI league after the Elizabeth Way club had switched from the Herts & Essex League the previous season.

Calver said: "We were going for a top half finish and we would have taken fourth at the start of the season. Hopefully we can press on and go for promotion next year.

"This league has been a step up and there is better cricket. Youngsters have also had to adapt to time and overs cricket [in the previous league it was just overs]. We have shown our strength in depth as we have used 18 players."

He added: "Ramya Upadhyay has stood out for us with the bat and ball. He was fourth or fifth in the batting in the league and the top bowler.

"We also have good youngsters coming through in Shaun Alderson (batsman Matt Hurley (batsman) and Ben Farmer (bowler)."

Other results: 2nd XI div three - Harlow Tn II 89-3 bt Old Southendian & Southchurch II 56 (Simon Rowell 5-26) by 7 wks; 3rd XI div three - Harlow Tn III (166) bt Pegasus & Corringham III 98 (Tom Wilcox 4-18) by 68 runs.

Harlow denied as League dock points for ineligible player

HARLOW Cricket Club fourth team have been denied promotion from division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League 4th XI division after fielding an ineligible player against Harlow Town IV.

Harlow (107-1; Rob Coldwell 57 not out) won

By DAVID RIMMER

Saturday's match by nine wickets against Harlow Town (101; Niall Lawless 4-16).

The result left the Marigold side in the second promoted spot.

But after the League were allegedly tipped off about the ineligible player by Harlow's neighbours, they were stripped of 20 points which left them in third.

Harlow skipper Coldwell refused to name the player who was withdrawn from the game when the error was pointed out to them. This was 16 overs into the match.

The player should not have featured because he had played several games for higher teams, including the first team.

Coldwell said: "He had played more than nine games at [a higher] level. He was just a fielder in the first team for eight games and batted five games for four runs.

"He did not bat or bowl or take a catch in the game [against Harlow Town IVs] and as soon as we realised, we withdrew him from the field of play."

He added: "Harlow Town had seen our team sheet before the game."

Coldwell added: "They have thrown the book at us and deducted 20 points."

Meanwhile, Harlow's second and third teams' promotion hopes ended.

Visitors Southend-on-Sea & EMT IIs batted first against Harlow II on Saturday and made 226-6 with Michael Garside taking 3-54 for the hosts.

In reply, useful knocks came from John Perry (45) and Anthony Webb (39) before Harlow were bowled out for 200.

Harlow II finished fourth in division two of the 2nd XI league as Southend overtook them to snatch third.

Meanwhile, Harlow III (234-8; Asad Aleem Baig 69) beat Ardleigh Green 169 (Lloyd Sykes 7-44) by 65 runs but missed promotion from 3rd XI division three by the narrowest possible margin.

Harlow finished third on 239 points behind Buckhurst Hill on 239 but the latter pipped the Marigolds side to come second as they won one more match.

Promotion target for Rams captain

RAMS captain Shaun Roberts is hoping that his side can make it second time lucky by securing promotion from RFU London division three north east this term.

Harlow finished third last term after dropping down from division two north east in 2011.

They open their 2012-13 campaign at newly-promoted Wisbech this Saturday.

Cantabrigian are the other promoted team in the division this season, while Beccles and Canvey Island have dropped down.

The experienced Roberts, 35, who plays in the back row, said: "I would like to think we will be in the mix for promotion but it is going to be tough. It is not easy to say what will happen.

"There are five new teams we do not know much about. Last year Holt and Stowmarket came up and both were promoted.

"Wisbech will be up for it and will be used to winning. They will have a big crowd.

"It will be good to win as we have a tough opening four games. We have Norwich and then we have Beccles and Cantabrigian away."

Harlow will be missing number eight Kane Claridge (holiday) and fly-half Michael Dobson (getting married) this Saturday.

Long-serving tight head prop Paul Prindiville, a powerful scrummager, retired in the close season.

Roberts is confident the likes of Dan Stonehouse and Martin Cunningham can cover this berth.

He is hopeful that Harlow's new-look back line will make an impact this term.

Former Rams colt and outside centre Jamie Fricker has returned to the Elizabeth Way club having completed his studies at university while former Havant back Alistair Peasey has joined. "Jamie has not played because of work commitments but he has looked in pre-season training," said Roberts.

"Alistair can play at wing or full back. He has moved to the area from Chichester and did play at Havant. He has not played for two or three years but can run the 100metres in 10.4 seconds."

Winger Will Grimley also returns after a knee injury ruled him out for quite a bit of last term.

Roberts said: "Forwards can dominate in this division but hopefully we can use our backs.

"Will [Grimley] has looked sharp in pre-season and we also have Jonathan Unwin at lock. He is a good ball carrier and good in the set-pieces."

Harlow rounded off their pre-season campaign with a 21-15 win against Datchworth five days ago. The tries came from Mark Twiner, Paul Eynon and Rob Mackie, while Danny Smith kicked three conversions.

● FORMER Rams director of rugby Graham Richards has taken over at Harlow's division three north east rivals Sudbury. The Welshman left Ram Gorse in the early 2000s.

Kinney's mission in Lithuania

RUNNING

HARLOW Running Club member Andy Kinney competed in the Vilnius Half Marathon in Lithuania.

He finished in 508th position out of 939 finishers in 1 hour, 55 minutes and 7 seconds.

Vicky Steadman completed the Grunty Fen Half Marathon at Ely in Cambridgeshire.

In very warm conditions she finished in 201st place out of 572 finishers in a superb time of 1 hour 47 minutes and 43 seconds.

Meanwhile, the previous week, Kinney completed the inaugural 21-mile Bath to Devizes Canal Race, run alongside the Kennet and Avon Canal. He finished in 24th place in a time of 4:23.36.

Harlow survive drop by a single point

Southend & EMT 271-7, Harlow 195

Harlow lost by 76 runs
Shepherd Neame Essex League, division one

THEIR campaign ended in defeat but Harlow did just enough in their last game to avoid the drop.

Luke Heskett's side gained five points from their clash at Southend-on-Sea & EMT, which meant they finished in eighth spot on 177 points.

They were just a solitary point ahead of Hornchurch who got 176 and finished in ninth place. They were relegated along with Southend-on-Sea who finished bottom.

Harlow bowled first and were made to toil by Southend's batsmen, who batted with the freedom of knowing that the match meant nothing to them.

Dale Hackney (67) and Modasser Ibrahim (53) played significant roles in Southend's large total of 271-7.

Ahmed Khawaja was Harlow's only bowler to do any damage, taking 4-38.

In reply, Harlow lost two wickets in the second over, but Rehman Ahmed (44) and Khawaja (85) dominated Southend's attack as the visitors raced to 140-2.

But then Southend's spinners sparked a collapse removing the pair quickly and Harlow collapsed to 195 all out.

Harlow captain Heskett said: "I am very relieved to have stayed in the division.

"That was the aim at the start of the season and hopefully we can continue to build for next season. Ahmed Khawaja was fantastic yet again for us."

Twin brothers' tribute to London Olympics

CHEEKY twin brothers Owen and Lewis Harknett could not resist paying their own tribute to the fabulous London 2012 Olympics when they staged an impromptu photo call with the gold post box in Sheffield painted in honour of gold-medal winning heptathlete Jessica Ennis.

The 11-year-old siblings, from Harlow, had been competing in the BUPA Great Yorkshire Run in Sheffield.

While Owen imitated the stance of Olympics sprint legend Usain 'lightning' Bolt, his brother Lewis posed on top of the post box painted in Ennis's honour.

Ennis, who comes from the South Yorkshire City, won her gold on what became known as 'Super Saturday', as she sparked a run of golds at the Olympic Stadium with 10,000metre runner Mo Farah and long jumper Greg Rutherford later triumphing.

Owen decided to stage his tribute to his brother after Lewis ran brilliantly to win the 2.5km junior race at Sheffield.

Lewis had clocked 7 minutes and four seconds in the 9-11 years age group race in the city centre.

In clocking his superb time, Lewis fought off some tough competition from about 200 in his age group and he came home ahead of his twin brother Owen.

Owen was 8th in 7:55.

The boys are both members at Harlow Athletic Club.

They have just started secondary school at Stewards Academy in Parnall Road and they were watched by their proud parents Neil and Vallerrie, from Woodhill in Harlow.

Mrs Harknett said: "I was very proud of them. It [the course] was hilly and they did so well. They were outside their comfort zone and I did not expect them to come in the top 10.

"We had seen the post box the day before. They really do not show off. They were inspired by the Olympics."

She added: "It is Lewis's dream to run in the Olympics. Owen has not said anything about it.

"They like and follow Mo Farah who has inspired them. Bolt inspires them and they are now following Andrew Osagie a lot."

The race formed part of the BUPA Great Run series, held at different locations throughout the UK.

tained in training on Tuesday.

Jack Haverson is unavailable as he is away this weekend.

The most likely avenue for a replacement or replacements is through a Football League club.

Chapman explained: "Liam has had the problem since pre-season. He was going to have a cortisone injection but the specialist wants him to have a scan.

"He may need surgery. He could be out for three weeks or three months!"

He added: "Danny Brown got a knee injury in a tackle in training. We will have to see how he is.

"We are going to speak to Leyton Orient and possibly Spurs. It may be one central defender and may be two but I will not use this as an excuse. It is too late for seven-day approaches."
